

ABSTRACT

According to one or more embodiments of the invention, a patch system and method are provided that includes a plug material including an adhesive backing. The patch system and method can be used to patch holes in walls, ceilings and floors.